WOLLIN TAKEN ON 2ND BOOZE CHARGE

Union House Proprietor Says
He Used Alcohol to Bathe
His Legs.

With one liquor case already pending against him in circuit court where it was taken on a charge of venue, Albert Wollin, proprietor of the Union house, 100 North First street, was arraigned in municipal court shortly before 5 p. m. Friday on a second charge of liquor possession. Two squads of police holding Wollin's place of business and his home, 221 Ringold street, simultaneously Friday afternoon, claim to have found one-half pint of a gallon at his home, one-third of a gallon at his home, also a one-gallon jug containing wood alcohol.

"I swear to God I have had none of the stuff in my place since I was up here before," Wollin told Chief Newman of the court room when told that a half pint had been found in the Union house. "I don't know how it got there."

Used Alcohol for Bathing
Questioned by Judge H. J. Maxfield previously in regard to the alleged liquor found in his home, the accused said:

"It was some alcohol I've had there for the last year or two. I use it for bathing my legs."

Wollin decided to plead not guilty to a charge of privately manufactured liquor without a permit from the state prohibition commissioner and his case was adjourned to 10 a. m. Monday. J. G. McWilliams, whom he has retained to defend him in his first case, was called in to arrange for the drawing up of a $1,000 bail bond which was furnished.

May Establish Precedent
A new form of procedure was gone through with by Judge Maxfield in the arraignment of Wollin, establishing a precedent that may be followed in future cases here under the prohibition laws. Circuit Judge Quinlan, Marinette, recently held that such cases are misdemeanors and not felonies in denying petition for a change of venue.

Acting largely as a result of this ruling, Judge Maxfield called upon Wollin to plead guilty or not guilty. Ordinarily in liquor cases, after reading the charge, he has said, "Can that charge you are entitled to an examination?" This question was asked, however, when liquor cases were considered to be felonies. But now that there is a tendency to consider them misdemeanors, the case proceeded to trial immediately without the formality of an examination to determine whether an offense had been committed.

Wollin was not asked the question of whether or not he wished an examination.

CYCLE CAR DRAWING TO BE HELD JUNE 6

Drawing of a cycle car to be given to some pupil of the vocational school at the completion of the school term will take place at 7:30 p. m. June 6. The car, propelled by a motor cycle engine, was given to the school and was repaired by the students. Lots will be drawn by all boys in good standing in the school.

FROLIC TO FOLLOW FIELD MEET MONDAY

Monday will be a banner day for boys who played in the grade school baseball league, recently closed. The field meet, scheduled for Friday afternoon, but postponed on account of rain, will probably be held after school. Presentation of awards to members of teams winning the first three places, and a good program, including stunts by representatives of each school, and refreshments, will be held at the "Y" at 7:30 p. m.

STRAW HAT TIME IS HERE, BUT AW! WHAT'S THE USE?

It's straw hat time in Janesville. Rain or no rain, that's a fact. For proof, listen to the findings of the observing reporters:

1. Several hundred dollars' worth of the city blossomed out Saturday with their show windows decorated with flat straws, soft straws, palmstraws, and so on.

2. The calendar says so.

3. A traveling salesman popped out of a taxi, dashed across a sidewalk, snatched a hat from a passerby, and dashed back to his hotel.

4. The newspaper and magazine aisles blazon the dope in the world.

But, say, folks, what kind of coal are you burning this summer?

And this rain—why, if you had been watching Mr. Mend's predictions you would have known that he said there would be rain on May 22.

PICK 2ND WARD BLOCK WINNER

Clean-up week officials announced the winning block in the Second ward Saturday, after inspecting the 17 blocks entered in the Chamber of Commerce contest conducted as one of the features of this year's campaign.

The cleanest block in the Second ward was found to be that bounded on the south by Walker street, west by Prairie avenue, north by St. Mary's avenue and east by Yale street. The next cleanest one was declared to be that bounded by Prospect avenue, Wisconsin, East and North First streets.

Rain interfered somewhat with collections Friday in the Fourth ward, but the city trucks were to finish up any remaining work on Saturday, the final day of clean-up week.

Children aged 7 to 14 in the cleanest blocks in the seven wards will be given playground balls and baseball caps.

NEW SCHEME FOR LENGTHENING HOSE

Adopting a scheme picked up by local firemen from the Chicago fire department, Chief C. J. Murphy announced that all trucks of the local department are now equipped with extra leads of hose for rapid lengthening of a line of hose already laid. Each truck has a lead rolled up so that both ends are exposed for quick attachment in an emergency. The stream can be shut off by a clamp and the line of hose lengthened a full lead in a half minute or less. One man can do the job but two can do it much more rapidly. Regular drills are being held now in this and other fire fighting schemes.

BOYS DECIDE WHERE THEY WILL CAMP

Twenty-two boys attended the meeting for those who intend to go to camps conducted by community organizations this summer, held at the Y. M. C. A. Thursday night, and all of that number have definitely decided where they will go. Twenty will go to Ribblesdale, and one each to Manitowish and Phantom. A committee, consisting of Judge Charles Field, L. A. Markham, Robert Bugas, John Pugh and A. E. Bergman, visited the Ribblesdale grounds Thursday afternoon, and found them in good condition. A new road has been built leading in from the main highway. The boys' meeting concluded with games, camp songs and a peanut parlade.

Mrs. Witter Will Address Social Work Conference

An informal meeting of all who are interested in the recently organized, Rock County Conference of Social Work, will be held in the council chamber, city hall, next Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 to hear an address by Mrs. Isaac P. Witter, Wisconsin Rapids, president of the state conference of social work.

Mrs. Witter will give an address on a different topic at the annual luncheon of the City Federation of Women on that date. The luncheon will be held in the First Presbyterian church at 1 p. m. Reports and election of officers will precede the address by Mrs. Witter.

The Rev. J. E. Ryan, president of the county conference, announces that the meeting in the city hall at 2:30 is open to both men and women who are interested in social work, regardless of whether or not they come as representatives of organizations which have joined the conference.

The Rev. Frank D. Jackson, Emerald Grove, county conference secretary, is sending letters to organizations throughout the county explaining the aims of the conference and banks of membership. Any organization doing social welfare work in Rock county is eligible to join. Dues for such organizations are $1, payment of which entitles them to one delegate and one vote at regular meetings of the conference. Individuals may become associate members on payment of dues of 50 cents. J. M. Gorham, Iron Cross headquarters, Deloit, is treasurer. Mrs. A. B. West, Milton Junction, is vice president.

When some women realize that they are better than men, they spend a lot of time regretting the fact.

WHY HALT SEINING?

Sports Editor, Gazette:

In a recent issue of the Gazette you quote Elmer S. Hall, conservation commissioner, Madison, as saying that he had stopped all carp fishing in Lake Koshkonong because there is no market for those roach. Why all this sudden concern on the part of Mr. Hall for the welfare of the fisherman? It is their job to find a market for their fish and not Mr. Hall's job. This movement is not in the interest of removing carp from Lake Koshkonong, but is in the interest of commercializing them so that they can make money for the state politicians to play with. When Mr. Hall spoke at the meeting of the Izaak Walton league in Beloit he said that the commission was in favor of moving carp from Wisconsin waters as soon as possible. Is Mr. Hall carrying water on two shoulders, and is he unable to walk some?

The time is coming when the Izaak Walton league will be a mighty force in the conservation of our natural resources and the destruction of pests strong enough to rattle the bellows so loud there will be no mistaking its sound.

Let's give this publicity, and let's hear from more members and sportsmen who want a square deal and political juggling for personal ferment.

League Baseball Year Opens Here at Pines Sunday

League baseball will open its second successive season in Janesville Sunday afternoon when the Janesville Boosters play host to the Cambridge American Legion at "The Pines" on North Washington street.

A rousing celebration will be staged by the home talents. There will be a concert by the Bower City band; hurling of the first ball by President J. K. Jensen of the city council; and an exhibition of airplane kites to make the afternoon worth while. It is probable that both teams may stage a parade around the field.

Black Gold

Tulsa—The Ozone nation, once all country in the world, celebrated Black Gold since the first Big Oil came in and poured the first $1,000,000 into the laps of these fortunate aborigines.

Black Gold, pride and pet of the Ozone, won the rich Kentucky derby. She averaged her mother, Uscit, who was ruled off the southern tracks some years ago. The Ozone always claimed Uscit and her Ozone Indian owner, A. M. Hoels, were victims of a frame-up. Hoels maintained until he died, five years ago, that this was so, and his widow, Black Gold's present owner, still insists it is true.

Ozone Lay Big Wagers.

Then, too, there was more than revenge in this victory for Black Gold, so far as the Ozone was concerned. Almost to a man they laid their money on the black colt "that laid it off, but can't match any bird." The little city of Skiatook, on the fringe of the Ozone nation, alone furnished $10,000 in wagers. It possesses only 2,700 souls. Much of this money was placed two months ago when the odds were 20 to 1 against Black Gold. More was laid a few weeks ago, when 10 to 1 was the price. The last few thousands, wired to Louisville Friday, were bet on the machine and paid $5.50 back for each $2 wagered.

The Ozone and their white brethren in Tulsa, Skiatook and Lawton, have several hundred thousand dollars on the sterling black colt.

Mrs. Hoels didn't need the rich derby prize to make her wealthy. She is an Ozone Indian, as was her husband. Each had a headright in the Ozone nation and when he died she received the $100,000 of her husband. She was worth more than $100,000 before the race, owning a fine farm in Kentucky and other valuable lands in Illinois.

Children Share in Colt.

Mrs. Hoels does not own Black Gold alone. A son, Alfred, whose home is in Skiatook, and a daughter, in Tulsa, share the colt with her. Alfred is with the derby winner, constantly and will go to the eastern tracks with him now.

There is one sad note in Black Gold's derby victory for the Ozone. Those who knew the owner of the colt's mother, Uscit, all his life, followed the race and tried to win a big stake. Before all money was made, his life about the tracks was a hard one. He never won a purse worth one-tenth the derby stake. After his life was over, he was harassed by thieves, who tried to swindle him, his friends say.

Once he entered Uscit in a selling race and she was bid in for $500. Hoels loved the mare and refused to give her up. For that Uscit was ruled off the track for life and Hoels brought her back to Skiatook. He said his partner in the particular en-

Black Gold Out for Third Win

Cleveland.—Black Gold, winner of the Kentucky and Louisiana derbies will attempt to make it three straight Saturday by capturing the inaugural running of the $5,000 Ohio derby at Maple Heights. Intentions are that it will be decided over a heavy track. Black Gold has been assigned to the 126 pounds, the same he carried in the Kentucky and Louisiana derbies. Jackey J. D. Mooney, who piloted him to victory in those events, will have the mount.

14 Thoroughbreds in Kentucky Race

Louisville, Ky.—Fourteen good thoroughbreds are entered for the running of the Grainger Memorial Handicap, $10,000 added, at the Churchill Downs Saturday afternoon. The state event was named in honor of the late Charles Grainger, resident of Louisville, who was killed in a racing accident at a mile and one-quarter, Chilhowee, the headley entry, Hopeless and Clinch, and The Anderson, Kendale, Cora, Bay, Acary and King Gorin, 14, seem to share the favor. However, indications point to a sloppy track and some observers are impressed with Glide's chances. The filly has an impost of 97 pounds.

Whitewater Meet to Platteville; Makes 66 Points

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)

Whitewater.—Pilling up 66 points, athletes of the Platteville normal school won the triangular track and field meet on Thursday here. Whitewater normal was second with 64 points and Milton college third with 15.

The meet was somewhat of a test for the state normal meet to be held at Platteville the end of the month. Platteville and Whitewater are considered among the best bets. Bluet, short-distance man of Platteville, is a find who is to be strongly reckoned with when the state event is held.

With rain falling from time to time during the meet, the track was slow and the field slippery. Despite that the matches made were good.

HEADS OF ARMY AND NAVY HONOR WAR DEAD

John W. SUMMER GOWN CALLS FOR SHADY HAT

The summer gown of voile or other thin material requires a shady hat. The frock in the center is of beaded voile, very simply made, with lace collar, cuffs and trimming down the front. Any one of the hats pictured might be chosen to wear with it.

At the upper left is a navy blue, loosely woven straw with a band of crushed blue chiffon intertwined with vari-colored taffeta ribbon. The one at the lower left is smaller but shady nevertheless, and is more on the order of a sports hat. It is very simply trimmed with ribbon and has a silk lining that might match the prevailing color in the dress. A more dressy type of hat is shown at the upper right. It is fashioned of tulle with a huge orchid as trimming and is developed in shades of mauve and orchid.

ACCUSES DOCTOR OF STEALING WIFE'S LOVE. JURY AWARDS HIM ONE DOLLAR

Mrs. Edward A. Opgergelt, her husband (left) and Dr. John T. Bolin. The affections of his wife are worth just one hundred cents to Edward A. Opgergelt of Chicago. At least that is the valuation placed on them by a jury which tried his suit against Dr. John T. Bolin whom he charged with alienation of her affections. Opgergelt declared in court that his wife, a former nurse was often an honored guest in a love nest maintained by Dr. Bolin. This the doctor denied.

AMOUR OF MISSING MILLIONAIRE BARED IN LURID LETTERS

Ambrose J. Small.

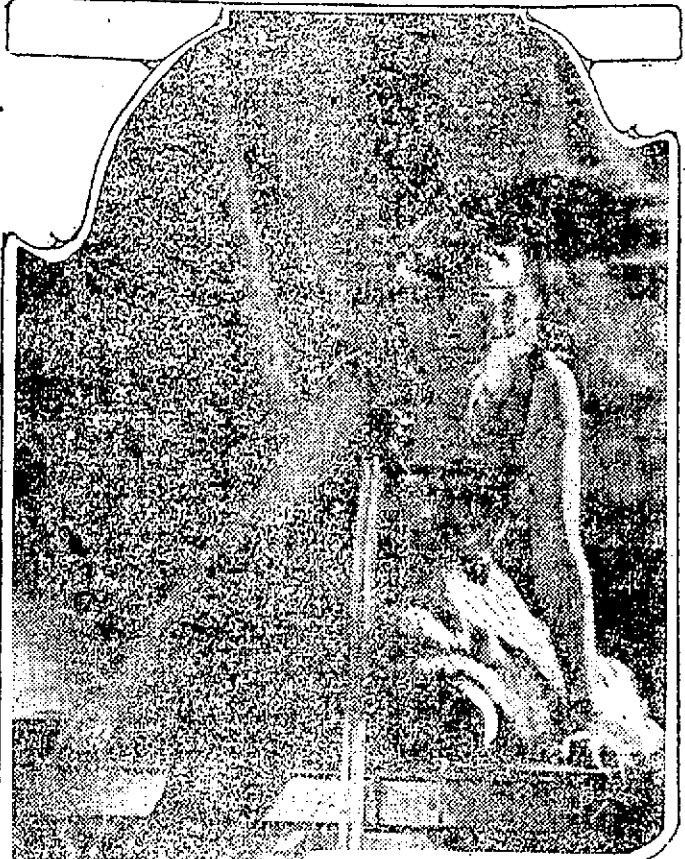

An amazing chapter has been added to the real life mystery story of the disappearance of Ambrose Small, Canadian theatrical magnate, who, Dec. 2, 1919 deposited $1,000,000 in a Toronto bank and then vanished. The new chapter in the story has been supplied by Mr. Small's wife, or widow, as the case may be, and contains letters teeming with the most passionate love. Mrs. Small has filed the letters in connection with legal proceedings instituted to obtain possession of the $2,000,000 of her husband. The letters purport to be from "Mrs. Clara Smith" or "Clarice Shepard." The correspondence as filed began in 1915 and continued till November, 1919.

"Try America first for art and architecture," is the slogan advocated by Alfred C. Bossum of New York, noted architect, who has offered prizes in a world wide competition for designs based on native American art, in an effort to bring into use neglected art and architecture on the North American continent. Bossum is practicing what he preaches. A new building to be erected in Buffalo of which he is the architect, will have a pyramidal top he adapted from the ancient pyramid of Jaguar at Chichen-Itza, Mexico.

Will Agnes Ayres continue to hold the heart of debonair Ricardo Cortez? That is one of the questions, Hollywood has it.

Is one of these men the lost son of the other? One photo is of a man known for 60 years as R. T. Clark but who now believes he really is Freddie Leib, who was kidnaped from his home in Quincy, Ill., at the age of 5, by a woman desiring to avenge a blighted love. The other photo is of the late Prof. William H. Leib, who died recently after spending a half century in a vain search for his vanished son. Newspaper reports of his death and fruitless search caused Mr. Clark to begin an investigation which he says has convinced him he is the lost son.

'SHENANDOAH FLIGHT LOOMS AS TENDER GETS MOORING MAST

How the mooring mast is being installed on the U. S. S. Patoka.

Although the projected North Pole flight of the U. S. S. Shenandoah, "Leviathan of the air," has been indefinitely called off by President Calvin Coolidge naval aviation officers are hopeful of putting the dirigible to the test soon with a long flight, possibly even a transatlantic journey. Work of installing a mooring mast on the U. S. S. Patoka, the dirigible's tender, is going ahead at the Norfolk navy yard.

The mast is 121 feet high and is modeled after the Eiffel tower. From its top a radio tower will extend 30 feet higher into the air. Meanwhile other nations have plans for dirigible flights to the polar region.

Subscriptions to The Janesville Daily Gazette.

THE DAHL GLIDER

This is the latest invented kite on the market. It actually soars like a bird right up into the clouds. What appeared to be an aeroplane hovering over the city last Friday was a Dahl Glider being demonstrated by the inventor, Mr. Conrad Dahl, of Chicago.

Mr. Dahl will be in Janesville tomorrow (Sunday) afternoon to give an exhibition of the kite and a demonstration of its wonderful flying ability. Come to the opening ball game of the Southern Wisconsin league at the Pines on North Washington street at two o'clock and see the nose dives, the tail spins, upside down flying and the many other tricks that the Glider can be made to perform. Bring Dad with you or come with dad, he was a boy once and you will get a big kick out of this newly invented Glider Kite.

When the wind is blowing in the evening it is possible, owing to the tremendous pull of this Glider to send up large pennants and flags and at night the largest size flash lights may be sent up giving the appearance of a rapidly moving star in the heavens. The Glider looks just like an aeroplane when in the air. It rises very rapidly and almost straight up, there is no necessity for running to start this Glider.

The sails or wings are made of the best book binders cloth mounted on frames that are cut from the finest of seasoned wood made to stand the tremendous strain when the Glider is high up in the strong upper air currents. The guide wire is made of the best steel.

A large ball of specially prepared twine is furnished free with each Glider.

Call at the Gazette Circulation Department to see the sample Glider on display.

Ask about the plan for securing the kite in return for subscriptions and get a supply of blanks to be used in taking orders.

If you do not live in Janesville the coupon printed below will bring a supply of the blanks to you. Fill out and mail today.

Condition of Brakes Should be Checked up Now

Although the steering gear and brakes are two of the most important units on the whole car, it is a fact that few owners give them the twenty or thirty minutes attention they should receive about every 500 miles.

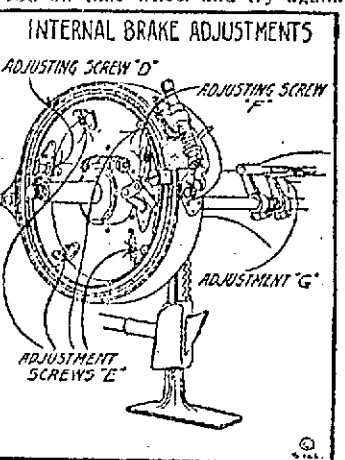

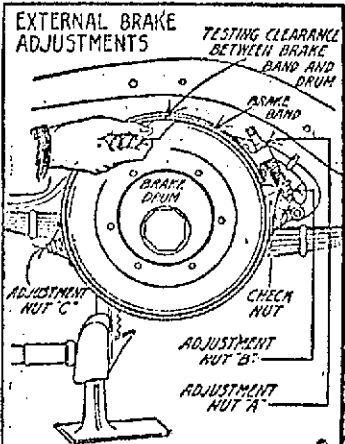

Brake adjustments are so easy to make that there is no excuse for any driver who has an accident because his brakes refused to act at the critical moment. After thoroughly cleaning and lubricating all connections, get into the driving seat and push the service brake pedal in and out to make sure that it comes back promptly when you take your foot off the brake pedal. Do the same thing with the emergency or hand brake lever. If there is any sign of stiffness or sluggishness in the action of the brakes, some shaft or connection is binding, and you will have to go over all of them carefully to find out which one it is. In the case of brakes that have shafts going through a tube at any point, you will often find that on account of lack of lubrication, water and grit has worked into the tube, rusting up the shaft, so causing it to bind and stick. You can try freeing it up by squirting kerosene or penetrating oil into the tube. If this does not free it up then you will have to disconnect the brake rods and pull out the shaft and clean and lubricate it thoroughly.

If all connections work freely, then you can proceed to check up and if necessary adjust the brakes properly. First, jack up both wheels, then remove them if they are of the demountable type. First, adjust the service or external brakes. There should be a space of the thickness of a thick business card between the brake lining and the drum. If there is more than this, loosen the lock nut or take out the cotter pin at adjustment C and turn it in until you can just insert the card freely between the lining and brake drum at this point, then replace the cotter pin or tighten the lock nut. Now adjust the bottom half of the band by loosening the check nut and turning adjustment nut B down until you have the lower half of the brake adjusted. Complete the adjustment of the band by turning down adjustment A until top half of the band is set correctly. This nut generally locks itself every half turn. If you have made the adjustment correctly, you will have a maximum clearance between the brake lining and drum of the thickness of the card at all points.

The internal or emergency brakes wear very slowly and can generally be adjusted by shortening the brake rods. To adjust, first see that the brake lever is fully released, then replace wheels but keep them jacked up. Remove the pin from the yoke on the brake rod at adjustment G and give it a turn to shorten the rod. Test adjustments by starting the engine, engaging low gear, letting engine run slowly while you apply the brake a notch at a time. If both wheels stop together the adjustment is O.K. If one of the wheels keeps revolving, then shorten the brake rod on that wheel and try again.

If the linings have worn very much and you cannot take up wear by shortening the brake rods, then remove wheels and brake drums and fully release hand brake. First, remove cotter pin or loosen lock nut on adjusting screw D and turn it in just enough to prevent the lining rubbing on the brake drum when the wheel is revolved, then lock in place. Now loosen the adjusting screw F on the toggle gear to free up the ends of the band, then adjust up screws E just enough to prevent lining rubbing on the drum, then turn in adjusting screw F to complete adjustment.

Be very careful in making brake adjustments not to tighten the brake bands too much or the brakes will drag. Always make certain that when the brakes are fully released the wheels turn freely. If the linings are worn so that the rivets are rubbing the face of the brake drum, new brake linings will have to be fitted.

GAZETTE GOOD TIMES CLUB FOR ALL SCHOOL BOYS AND GIRLS

BY FLORENCE SLOW HYDE

These pupils of the upper room, Lima Center state graded school, gave a writing demonstration at a recent meeting of Rock county rural teachers. Miss Miriam Bennett, principal.

Township play days are now occupying the time and energy of most of the rural schools of Rock county. Walworth schools do not have township play days, but will have a county field day on May 31. Six township play days are scheduled for the coming week. Events of this character will be held every day except Memorial day. Two play days will be held Saturday, May 31. The schedule for the week is as follows:

Monday—Rock township at McBeth's grove.

Tuesday—Janesville township at Mineral Springs.

Wednesday—Harmony township at Spaulding's pond.

Thursday—Lima.

Saturday—Newark at W. M. Nau's grove, Porter at Cokesville.

Indications are that the attendance will be large on all of these days. The programs will include many interesting features of interest to both children and adults. Indications are that the Gazette kite contests will be an important feature at all the play days held this season. Requests for kite making instructions have been coming to the club editor's desk in great numbers the past week. La Prairie township had eight kite entries this year.

Miss Florence Davies, West Center school, reports that pupils of that school have made 21 kites for the county township play day on June 2. Emma school, town of Newark, reports nine kites made. Nearly all of the Newark schools have received directions for kite making. Any type of kite may be entered and originality of design is one of the points of judging in the construction contest.

M. M. C. WINNEBAGO. Six Corners and Johnston schools were winners of honors in local music memory contests this week. The tests for all three divisions were given in Johnston. Division I, J. A. Peterson, teacher at Six Corners, and Miss Mae White at Johnston. Six Corners winners are as follows: Division I, Phoebe Dingman; Division II, William, second; Division III, Walter Wendorf; first: Eleanor Koscharek; second: Division C, James Manogue; first: Emmett Manogue; second: Johnston winners are: Division A, Louise Quigley; Maybelle Shadel; Division B, Leo Walt; Clifford Zantoni; Division C, Lyle Walt; Philip Walt. Each of the pupils who made a kite for the county township play day on June 2.

WIN INDIVIDUAL HONORS. Nine pupils of Calvinville school, town of Magnolia, are reported by the teacher, Miss Jennie Johnson, as having won the highest honors for individual honor buttons offered by the Gazette. This makes a total of 60 club members who have a record of achievement in the past year.

Requirement for individual honor buttons was not less than 480 points out of a possible 600 earned from Nov. 1 to May 1.

Points were allowed for passing Gazette athletic tests, participation in Good Times club recreation programs, observing the club rule of "Play Fair" in school room on the play ground and at home, doing helpful tasks at home and at school, making useful articles, and for excellence of scholarship and perfect attendance. Credit was allowed on a very limited basis for helpful tasks and handicraft work, the maximum points allowed in any one month under each of these headings being 10. Hence honor buttons have been given to a crowd of well balanced program of achievement along lines that make for good citizenship.

Special athletic test honor buttons were offered for passing the monthly tests as prescribed by the Gazette, but thus far honor winners reported by schools are those who have carried out the full program of the individual play contest. Teachers should report at once the names of any pupils entitled to the athletic test buttons.

MEMORIAL DAY PROGRAMS. Albion state graded school, Dane county, will use Gazette program material for a Memorial day program. Other schools that have not yet closed will have Memorial day exercises Thursday afternoon. The rural school bulletin of the C. S. bureau of education urges rural schools to have such exercises in memory of the brave men who served in the nation's wars.

Participation by the youth in these exercises, whether the highest ideals of patriotism. It not only teaches them to honor the brave dead, but inspires them to devote their best efforts to their country's welfare, in the thoughts of Lincoln's Gettysburg address.
